DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

This office action is in response to the amendment filed on 8/10/07 in which:

- Claims 1-10 have been canceled.
- Claims 11-23 have been added.
- Response to claims rejection have been filed.
- Claims 11-23 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 11-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Eck et al (US 6,716,103).

Art Unit: 3714

Claim 11. A smart cartridge for a hand held personal video game device, configured to add direct wireless communications between a standard handheld gaming device and the public Internet (Abstract, col. 9:lines 40-59);

Decode the Internet protocol bit stream (7:54-8:11);

Decompress audio/video content, convert said decompressed audio/video content into the native format of the hand held personal video game device, hands the processed content over to the processor of the hand held personal video game device, where said processor renders the content for display (abstract).

Claim 12. Eck discloses wherein the smart cartridge includes a mass storage device (7:7).

Claim 13. Eck discloses wherein said mass storage device is hard wired to the smart cartridge (7:7).

Claim 14. Eck discloses wherein said mass storage device is removable (7:7).

Claim 15. Eck discloses wherein said smart cartridge has sufficient mass storage space to download digital audio/video from the public Internet (7:7).

Art Unit: 3714

Claim 16. Eck discloses wherein the smart cartridge has sufficient bandwidth to stream digital audio/video from the public Internet. This is inherently present in order to correctly play the game with minimal latency.

Claim 17. Eck discloses wherein the smart cartridge is capable of text messaging (fig. 8F).

Claim 18. Eck discloses wherein the smart cartridge is capable of sending and receiving e-mail (fig. 8A-H).

Claim 19. Eck discloses wherein the smart cartridge is capable of sending and receiving voice over IP communication (20:6).

Claim 20. Eck discloses wherein the smart cartridge is capable of downloading software which is configured to operate on the native processor of the hand held personal game device (abstract).

Claim 21. Eck discloses wherein the smart cartridge is capable of Web browsing (20:33)

Claim 22. Eck discloses wherein the smart cartridge enables users to play multi-player games over the public Internet, where said games were initially designed a multi-player games over a local, closed network (13:45).

Claim 23. Eck discloses wherein the smart cartridge provides peer to peer communication with another smart cartridge (13:45).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
